

Figure 3. Relationship between ligand RMSD and headgroup interaction similarity for all Vina docking poses. Left panel shows distance-based headgroup environment overlap; right panel shows typed interaction overlap from PandaMap. Hexbin density reveals the inverse correlation between structural deviation and interaction fidelity. The red line traces median overlap across RMSD bins with interquartile range shown in shaded regions.