

Figure 4. Headgroup interaction overlap distributions. Distance-based environment overlap (left) measures residue proximity to the headgroup, while typed interaction overlap (right) requires matching both residue identity and chemical interaction type. Boltz and Vina best-scoring poses show higher overlap than the full Vina ensemble.